

Index Voices

Issue 2/2015 Reflections on Migration in the Global South
Authors	Title
Tobias Schwarz, Andrea Hollington, 1 Oliver Tappe, Tijo Salverda	Introduction
2 Interview with Andrew Gardner	About labor migration to the Arab Gulf states (Change is inevitable)
3 Interview with Michaela Pelican	On African Migrants to China and the Middle East (Space for informal activities)
Guita Hourani & Eugene Sensenig- 4 Dabbous	Migration patterns in the Global South. The Middle East and North Africa as a reflection of policy alternatives in the fields of security, labor market, and social welfare planning
5 Adam K. Webb	Becoming an immigrant country: Double standards, East and West
6 Loren B. Landau	Southern Specificity or specious separation: Perspectives from Southern Africa
7 Amarjit Kaur	Understanding historical and contemporary labor migration patterns and processes in Southeast Asia
8 Satyanarayana Adapa	Migration in the Global South: An indian perspective
9 Interview with Vincent Houben	Indentured migration was driven both by colonial capitalism and by regional specificities
10 Ibrahim Awad	A global perspective on migration and refugees in the Middle East and North Africa
11 Francis B. Nyamnjoh	One good turn deserves another: Treasure-hunting beyond familiar shores
12 Alejandro Grimson	Generalizations about "patterns" obscure differences between migration processes all over the world
13 Tobias Schwarz	Alternative visualizations of quantitative data on migration
14 Video interview with Jorge Durand	Migration to, from, and within the Americas
15 Video interview with Min Zhou	Characteristics of migration in Asia